DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 35-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 35, it is unclear whether “the two access holes” (line 4) reference the elements “two relatively large holes” (line 3). Furthermore, “large” is a comparative term with no reference thereby resulting in a lack of clarity.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 35, as understood, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bertolini et al. 6,510,657.

Bertolini et al. ‘657 discloses a door module having two large access openings to provide access to a cavity of the door. Located between the openings in a mounting surface comprising vertically oriented ribs used to increase the structural rigidity and thereby be suitable for mounting a door hardware module.

Art Unit: 3612

However, Bertolini et al. '657 does not show a door handle being fastened to an intervening surface.

A skilled person in the art would recognize that the intervening area can be used to fasten any hardware to it because of its relative structural rigidity.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 36-38 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Lori L. Lyjak whose telephone number is 571-272-6658.
